Supervisors face Beach Rd. repairs

It's going to take some political pull in Washington to get any federal assistance in repairing the beach front road heavily damaged by Hurricane Betsy, the board of supervisors concluded Friday.

On a request by telephone from R.G. Hubbard, Jr., Beat 5 supervisor who is recuperating at home after recent surgery, the board went on record asking the Army Corps of Engineers to undertake cleaning up the county after Betsy. This applied to removal of debris on the beach and fixing the seawall proper.

But the beach road is another matter. Dolph Keller, president pro tem of the board, explained that since Hancock was the only county with damage to a federal aid secondary road (the beach road), the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads is from giving any aid. And because it's on the FAS system, this road doesn't qualify for assistance on Public Law 875.

Principal authorities should be advised if they will not help repair the strip, they should permit its removal from the federal secondary system, opined the board's attorney, Lucien M. Gex.

"We need someone to speak for us," Gex complained. He noted that Louisiana had U.S. Rep. Hale Boggs and Sen. Russell Long working in its behalf to get federal assistance for Betsy's damages. It was finally agreed to prevail upon the office of U.S. Sen. John Stennis to see if some relief for Hancock County could be included in the hurricane damage bill now before Congress.

County Engineer George Wier noted that while the federal people are taking the view damage to only the beach road does not constitute a need for relief actually the Texas Flat Road and State Rt. 603 had been hurt as well.

A North Beach resident appeared to request he be permitted to rebuild the pier in front of his home since it was on an undamaged section of the seawall. The board noted it had asked property owners to erect piers for at least six months until the hurricane clean-up is completed. He was

C of C moves from City Hall

Hancock County Chamber of Commerce is moving out of its office at City Hall this week and the space is now temporarily occupied by the Biloxi-Gulfport Daily Herald.

An interim office for the chamber is being established at the home of its secretary-manager, Mrs. Frank Kiefer, on Dunbar Avenue, and the chamber phone—467-4252—is being moved there today.

Chamber directors learned Monday at their meeting that the location they had hoped to rent on Main Street is taken and discussion began on seeking another site. The Kiefer home will be used in the meantime. Joseph Marochino, chamber president, having earlier notified city officials the space would be vacated to ease overcrowding in City Hall.

MTF welcomes 1st live bird

"A man on the moon within five years" was the promise made by Jackson M. Balch, manager of the $250 million Mississippi Test Facility of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration at Gulfport on Sunday, shortly after the arrival of the first all-systems test model of the S-II second stage of the giant Saturn V launch rocket.

The space ship, designated Apollo-Saturn, is designed to carry three men to the moon for a 14-day exploration mission after which they will return to earth in the Apollo vehicle.

The S-II is the second of three stages of rocket power that will propel the Apollo spacecraft to the moon, each stage being jettisoned as the next takes over.

The 81 1/2 foot long, 33-foot wide, 21-million horsepower, 1,025,000-pound rocket was built at Downey and Seal Beach, Calif., and made the 4,000-mile trip to the NASA Michoud Assembly Facility in

Harbor board to buy land

Discussions toward acquisition of land for the port and harbor commission's proposed development at Mulatto Bayou were opened last Thursday by International Paper Co. in Mobile, Ala. International is the principal property owner in this section.

Representing the port commission were Dr. A.K. Martinolich, president, Otto Rester, Elliot Casanova and Norton Haas, honorary secretary. Spokesmen for International Paper were R.F. Andrews, Gulf regional manager, woodlands department, Gulf Region, and Barry T. Griffith, regional forester.

Phillips A. Koonce, vice president, and Cecil Palmer, engineer, with Michael Baker, Inc. of Jackson, the commission's consulting engineers, also attended.

After perusing the port plans IP officials indicated that although their company is not opposed to progress they would favor a land exchange over difficult sale due to increasing difficulty in obtaining timber growing lands.

Acknowledging this point, the port delegation provided IP with an outline of future plans for industrial development and indicated that initially an outright purchase would possibly prove of greater benefit. This could be followed by a land exchange proposition, if such could be worked out, on subsequent development stages.

"We cannot spend taxpayers money without a proper appraisal of the land," said Martinolich on his return.

Faced with the alternatives of purchase or exchange, commissioners are now preparing their initial acreage purchase offer, based on tax rolls, independent appraisal, comparative prices and usage value.

Martinolich said, "We consider the meeting was a 100

Chancery Court to convene on Monday

The October term of Chancery Court will convene Monday with 31 triable cases and 58 domestic cases on the docket, according to Clerk Marie Quintini.

Chancellor Robert L. Buntin has announced that court will convene at 2 p.m., rather than the usual 10 a.m. The delay is to give persons wishing the opportunity to attend the swearing in at 9 a.m. of Dan M. Russell, Jr., as U.S. District Judge for the Southern District of Mississippi. That ceremony will take place in Biloxi.

C of C hesitates to endorse unit system

Hancock County Chamber of Commerce board of directors Monday night agreed to table for action until its next meeting a decision on the Mississippi Economic Council's proposals on a county unit road system as recommended by a study group for the state legislature.

Joseph Marochino, chamber president, suggested that directors study all available literature in order to make an "intelligent" decision, according to Mrs. Frank Kiefer, secretary-manager. Similar action was taken last week by the Picasune chamber. Newspapers in both Picasune and Bay St. Louis have editorially supported the MEC backed recommendations.

At a busy session in preparation for the annual membership meeting Nov. 8, a voters' committee composed of Joe Buccola, Dix Ashman and Mrs. Kiefer tallied balloting on nominees for the eight directors to be elected this year. Sixteen names are to be placed on the floor and availability of nominees is being checked before they are announced.

On the motion of Mrs. Wayne Ducomb, it was voted to ask State Highway Commissioner John D. Smith to provide a traffic stop light at the intersection of Rt. 603 and U.S. 90 and a red blinking light at the cross road at Kiln. The request parallels that of the board of supervisors a few weeks ago except for the elimination of a requested light at Rt. 604 and U.S. 90 at Pearlington, where, directors were told, a highway patrolman has been assigned to direct traffic during busy hours.

Dismissals sought at Hancock General

Trustees of Hancock General Hospital were to commence hearings last night on three petitions presented to them last Wednesday night requesting the resignations of the two top employees at the hospital.

In anticipation of receiving the complaints the board last week deferred election of its own officers at the annual re-organizational meeting—normally at the first October session—and declined to act on the medical staff appointments which also came due at this time.

T.T. Raboul, Jr., endeavored to recess last Wednesday's meeting as soon as the previous minutes and the financial report were presented and the complaint was aired. He took the view that vacancies had not been filled since the status of three trustees—John D. Rutherford, Jr., Cornelius Lederer, both at-large, and Hubert Thigpen of Beat 2—had not been determined by the supervisors.

At the onset of the meeting Rutherford moved, seconded by J.C. Maufrey, that the nurses' pay raise approved at a special meeting last month, provide for a starting salary of $350 per month, retroactive to Oct. 1 and regardless of experience.

Administrator Thomas O. Logue, commenting on Rutherford's report as treasurer, said the hospital's business was $10,000 less in September, worse than the previous month. Raboul remarked the trend had been continuing for some time and Rutherford agreed with the need to curtail expenses.

Raboul also challenged the United Fund spurts ahead

It's picking up but it's still got a long way to go!

That was the report Wednesday on the United Fund drive now in its third week.

A telephone check of various division leaders listed about $3,300 raised during the week and the figure is expected to be somewhat brighter for the formal report meeting at 7:45 p.m. today at Our Lady of the Gulf Parish Hall.

Plus the $1,219 reported last week, the total is a little closer to the $10,710 goal of the 1965 campaign, according to J. Arceneaux, general chairman, and W. Ray Gordon, chairman of the organization.

Employees at Hancock General Hospital turned in a $100 check, one of the first contributions to undertake a general canvass of its staff. Gordon said. He urged business-people to contribute.

Meanwhile the United Fund drive for cancer research, which has been supported by the United Fund since its inception, is being carried on in other parts of the county. Of agencies have been Red Cross, Boy and Girl Scouts, and United Fund.

debris resulting from Hurricane Betsy was raised by Wilson Wehre and it was agreed that a committee from the chamber should attend to write a letter to the board of supervisors offering the chamber's assistance toward raising an area of the infested tract. It was noted that neither Bay St. Louis nor Waveland have anything to do with the beach road or the water front area, the secretary reported.

Referred to the port and harbor commission and the board of supervisors was a request from the U.S. Department of the Interior for information for the river basin study being made under its Over-all Economic Development Plan (OEDEP).

The chamber was commended by the Colonel M.M. (Money in Mississippi) Ains for its recent advertisement in the Jackson Globe in behalf of business growth.

Bulldogs Incise opposition

Coach Herman (Buck) Price's Gulfview Bulldogs made a four in a row last Thursday by beating St. Stanislaus' Tiny Rocks 13-6 in the Rockchaw stadium.

The Tiny Rocks stymied Gulfview's offense in the first quarter and it was Stanislaus all the way with the Rocks leading at half time 6-0.

It was however a different story when the Dogs returned after intermission. Quarterback Teddy Dubose evened the score with a 70-yard pass play to wingback Buddy Boswell. Dubose then put his mates in the lead with an end run for the extra point.

On Oct. 7 the Bulldogs walked North Central's juniors 35-0 in the Lakeshore stadium, with Dubose again sparking his mates by scoring two touchdowns.

McCue and Stiedle win PCI tourney

A retired Navy captain and wife of a golf professional topped a field of 178 players to win the 11th annual invitational tournament at Pass Christian Isles Golf Club last weekend.

Capt. John McCue of New Orleans won the men's division with 73-73-146 - two strokes better than his nearest competitors. Mrs. Frank Stiedle of Gulfport, whose husband is pro at Sunkist Country Club, took the women's title with a 171 total for the 36-hole competition. It was her first major tournament win.

Captain McCue, 61, has won the Louisiana seniors title for the last two years and was the Southeastern seniors champion last year. Mickey Cooper, member of Loyola University's golf team, who won medalist honors with an opening par 72, faded to 76 on Sunday and finished in a tie for second with J. W. Waggoner of the host club. Cooper, incidentally, eagled the first and ninth holes Sunday but still made the turn with a 37. Another youthful challenger, Don Fruge of the Ole Miss golf team, opened with a 73 but finished at 77.

Mrs. James Durham, PCI women's champion, finished second in the women's championship flight and won medalist honors in a play-off with Mrs. Powell Glass, jr. Both had tied with 84s in Saturday's round. Mrs. Glass was third in the finals.

Prizes were awarded Sunday evening by S. Ray Wilson, tournament chairman, and Cal Smith, club pro. Sportsmanship awards for high scores went also to Mrs. N.M. Barrentine and Dean Richards.

Winners in other men's flights in order of finish were: First-Jack Ping, Bruns Myers and Lewis Kising, tied for second and third; second-Bdon, Don Hertel, third place tie between Dr. Jay Smith and H. Barnett third-Fred Jewell, George Saunders, tied for third were Dr. John Griffin and Ben Stiles; fourth-Grover Howard, John Robson, tied for third were Roy Saux and Jess Burrow; fifth-Red Hovland and Sydney Prague, tied for first; tied for third were Stanley Wagner, E. Gray and Ray Wilson; sixth-Cary Spence and Jay Carter tied for first; Frank Cefalu seventh-Lester Majoue, R.V. Johnson and H.E. Westbrook.

Women's flight winners in order of finish were: First-Mrs. Lewis D. Ami v, Mrs. Frank Cefalu, Kitty Purchner; second-Mrs. Leo Fisher, Mrs. James Karr, tied for third were Mrs. John Griffin and Margie Cheek.

Valens C. Jones gridders dumped Little Bury Trojans of Hattiesburg 21-2 here Sunday afternoon and are preparing this week for their first encounter with Beaumont in Perry County Friday night.

Jones now has a 3-1-1 record for the season. Since Beaumont has just been admitted to the South Mississippi Athletic Conference, this week's game won't count in loop standings. Next week VCJ plays Lockport High for homecoming.

Rolling Judlins gather no points

A speedy little running back named Rusty Judlin led St. Stanislaus Rockchaws to a 14-2 victory over highly rated Cor Jesu Sunday afternoon on the Rocks' gridiron.

But the score only tells half the story. The Rocks were again over-eager and drew 45 yards in penalties that cost heavily in points. Rusty, 160 pounds of flying power, wriggled through the Cor Jesu line shortly after the opening snap and streaked 60 yards to end zone only to have the play called back on an off-side penalty.

In the second quarter he broke loose and raced 60 yards to pay dirt but this time the referee nullified the score with a penalty for illegal use of the hands. Result was that the records show Rusty with only six points scored although he chalked up 67 yards in 15 tries. Had his mates used a little more caution his total yardage would have been 187.

Another factor in the Rocks' win was Johnny O'Boyle accounted for 74 yards in 10 tries for a 7.4 average which is tops in anybody's league. He also went for a 16-yard touchdown jaunt in the fourth quarter and then ran around end for the extra point.

The first score happened in the second quarter when Judlin ran the ball 35 yards for a touchdown.

Ronnie Genin was headed for the end zone on a quarterback sneak but fumbled on the one-yard line. O'Boyle, running interference, scooped up the pigskin and continued the journey into the end zone and it was 7-0, Rocks.

Cor Jesu's two-pointer occurred in the final when the New Orleans lads, fighting with their backs to the wall, attempted to pass out of danger but Aloysius Jacobi, who was holding down the QB spot, leaped in the air and grabbed the ball but couldn't get out of the end zone before being tackled and a two-point safety was awarded to the visitors.

Statisticians: first downs, SS 18, CJ 14; passes attempted, SS 6; CH 13; completed SS 2, CH 9; passes intercepted by SS 2, CJ 0; yards passing, SS 15, CJ 87; yards rushing, SS 161, CJ 49 total yardage, SS 176, CJ 136 SS 5 for 13

Bay St. Louis, Miss.

As your reporter was a bit under the weather last week—or maybe we should revert to the old southern expression, puny, for a better explanation, we regret being unable to fulfill our promise to do more research on The Jackson House. If anyone really cares, we'll offer humble apologies and promise to get on the ball and come up with more information next week.

We had the pleasure of spending a couple of hours last week with Mrs. Cecile Provost, mother of movie star Jon Provost, introduced by Ann (Mrs. P.E., Jr.) Porter, with whom she had spent the morning crabbing on Jackson Ridge. Cecile, a diminutive blonde, originally from Greenville, Tex., is one of the most sensible mothers we've ever met. Although Jon has been acting since he was two and one-half, his upbringing has been that of any young boy in an average American family. His father, a native of Mobile, Ala., is an aeronautical engineer, and the family lives on his salary. Not one penny of their son's earnings is used for anything but court approved investments for his future. They live in Beverly Hills, but have neither a swimming pool, nor a Cadillac. And we must add that Jon's obedience to his mother is something we'd like to see emulated around our house, and those of many of our friends.

Movie families arrive

Now that things on the set are well underway, wives are arriving. Two of the most charming are Leah Kiernan, wife of one of our favorites, set decorator, Bill Kiernan, and Liz Tedrick, whose lovely English accent is a delight to hear. Her husband, Ted, is wardrobe director. We were hoping to meet Lamar Criss' wife and daughter, but Mrs. Criss is an English teacher, and his daughter is occupied with studies in college.

Also enjoyed an interview with Art Say whose fascinating work, still photography (free lance, so he's worked for all the studios) for publicity releases, involves meeting just about everybody who is anybody in the movie world. Just a few include Natalie Wood, of course, Charles Bronson, Jon Provost (he did stills for the Lassie series); Frank Sinatra, Elke Summer, Jill St. John, Milton Berle, who he says is really funny until he goes on camera, then gets very serious; Ernest Borgnine, Stephen Boyd, Eleanor Parker, Carroll Baker, Peter Lawford, Ann Bancroft, Merle Oberon. . . in fact it would fill the column to list them all. He did, however, tell a brand new Sinatra tale from which readers might get a smile—Art walked on a set and asked the director if Frankie wasn't expected to arrive via helicopter at 10:00 a.m. The director gave him a dead pan, replying: "Really? I had an idea he would at least walk upon the water!"

If you happen to be among the many viewing proceedings and get confused thinking you're seeing two Sidney Pollacks (the director who for two years did Ben Casey), you're not. His brother Bernie is also here. Bernie works in the wardrobe.

Dinner party

One of the more sparkling social events of this and any other season was the cocktail party-buffet dinner honoring our own Judge Dan M. Russell, Hosted by Hancock County Bar Association the affair was in gracious home of president Lucien Gex and lovely wife Gerry on Sunday night. Testimonial in the form of a brief, but to the point address by Mr. Gex as he presented his honor with a gold engraved gavel while other officers Joe Benvenuti and Dan's law partner, Sam Favre, Jr., offered congratulations. Every lawyer in the county was present except brand new papa, Ed Ling and wife, Ingrid, who also had a little one under the weather. Judge and Mrs. Buntin, secretaries Mary Catherine Moran, husband Leo, Ursula Favre and of course our one lady lawyer, Evelyn (Mrs. Allan) Ortte. All ladies were lovely in after-five attire, and Eddie Jones, who we still love, even without the beard, was straight out of Esquire in dinner jacket and as the only eligible bachelor, was much in demand. Dot Russell, who still looks just about as young as daughter Dale, chose a most becoming aqua frock. Also a treat was conversation with Cornelius Ladner's pretty strawberry blonde wife, who appears much too young to have two children in St. Stanislaus' band. This could go on and on, but there is a limit to space we're allocated. . . so we'll just add it was like old home week with our Friday friend, Mrs. Williams, in charge of catering for Gus Stevens.

Get well

Get well wishes are on the way to Mrs. Charles Genin, who suffered a severe attack of a most unpleasant virus last Friday. By Saturday, she was feeling much better, but still quite weak.

'Mo' Mosby, SJA's new coach, also rates a wish. Her sprained knee was just about healed when she caught her finger in a door and now it's encased in a metal cast.

Caroline Kiefer was sufficiently improved Thursday to take in movie filming with Mary (Mrs. Charles) Carter and to

Edwards son is christened

Daniel Lewis Edwards, Jr., infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwards of Bay St. Louis and Hattiesburg, was christened Sunday at Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church with Rev. Thomas White, assistant pastor, officiating.

Sponsors for the child were his uncle and aunt, Dr. and Mrs. A.K. Martinolich, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Martinolich entertained local members of the family and friends with a reception later honoring their 25th grandchild. The infant's mother is the former Miss Jean Martinolich. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. C.P. Edwards of McComb.

Alma and Harry Jennings have returned home after visiting son Harry, wife Yvonne and three children in Upland, Cal. Their visit was made most eventful as World Series tickets, gratis from Yvonne's brother, Dodger, Jimmy Le Fevre, assured them box seats to all games.

Three leaders, Mmes. Joseph Donaway, M. Colovini and Lucas, will represent the area.

A bunch of ex-musicians met Saturday night in the home of F.F. (Wally) Cole on Mollers Drive, Waveland, to organize a club and jazz band that will be available wherever music is needed (if the members can come up with some instruments). The Cats voted to contact Miss Helen Arlt, president of the New Orleans Jazz Club regarding an affiliation with the world-wide organization. Discussion also included formation of a municipal band.

Charter members present were Jack Seuzeneau, trumpet; George and Sheldon Seuzeneau and Eddie Englehorn saxophone and Cole, piano. Ronald V. Goettege was appointed manager. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Jack (Doris) Seuzeneau and Mrs. Cole.

Gripe corner

Again we're back to small children either playing or riding tricycles and bicycles in the street... especially on Central Avenue. Always dangerous, as some idiots speed despite the deplorable condition of this thoroughfare, but much more so now that almost all traffic between Lakeshore, Clermont Harbor, Waveland and the Bay is forced to use this route.

Animal notes

Somewhere along the way we lost a couple of notes... but if anyone has found either a German Shepherd or a black Labrador retriever, the owners are grieving and phone numbers may be found under classified heading Lost and Found, pages six or seven.

Evelyn and Charlie Cox's small daughter is grieving over the loss of her Siamese kitten, Peanut Butter, which is lost, strayed or something. Anyone finding the small animal need only to look in a Want Ads for the number to call.

SIGHTS AND SOUNDS ALONG THE WAY - The golden glow of fall blooming wildflowers; black eyes susans, golden rod and brilliant blue alyssum, hastily covering Betty scars; a profusion of multi-hued butterflies, also brightening the landscape; a small black dog, unconcernedly holding up a stream of automobiles as he searches for an elusive flea right smack in the middle of Main Street and the haunting sound of the steam whistle on old 100 as it moves to and fro along the track.

at the Girl Scout Council meeting on Tuesday at Perkinston Junior College.

Leaders attending the neighborhood meet last Thursday were Mmes. Charles Arb, John Williamson, Charles Atterbury, Michael Haas, Jean Wood, Colovini, Wilkerson, Donaway, Griffin and Lucas.

"We're assured of
firm supplies
of natural gas
...from United"

Industries in many areas must settle for "seasonal" supplies of natural gas... subject to being cut off during cold spells when residential customers need extra volumes of gas for heating. But United Gas offers "firm" supplies to industries all over the Gulf South. How is this possible? Simply because United Gas has the built-in pipe line capacity to deliver any volume of gas that might be required. In the last 15 years, United has constructed new and large pipe line facilities at a cost averaging more than $2,000,000 per month. Dependability? More Gas, more...

Win homecoming Tigers tromp towards title

The undefeated Bay High Tigers continued their march toward the all-important battle with Ocean Springs by knocking St. Martin out of its second slot conference tie, 22-7 on Friday in Tiger stadium before an overflow homecoming crowd. The Tigers need a win over Ocean Springs to take the Gulf Coast Conference title.

Bay High is now undisputed owner of second place but the league-leading Ocean Springs Greyhounds continue to crush all opponents, last week beating Harrison Central 39-0. The Tigers' only blemish is an 0-0 tie with Stone and can cap the cup by downing Ocean Springs in the season finale on Nov. 5, there. Or, should St. Martin beat the Greyhounds this Friday the Tigers would move to the top of the list as they have completed their conference schedule except for Ocean Springs. The Tigers are now 6-0-1 and the Greyhounds 6-0.

Fullback Gary Fricke accounted for two touchdowns in Friday's melee and Mike Strong got one TD. The two-point safety occurred in the second quarter when Mike Letort of St. Martin attempted to punt from his own 15 but the snap from center sailed over his head. Letort dashed back and fell on the ball but the Tigers were awarded the two points.

Strong set up the first tally by intercepting a pass on his own 40, reversed his field and raced 43 yards before being pulled down on the Yellow Jacket's 17. Five plays later the pigskin was on the one and Fricke jumped over the line for the score.

In the third period Fricke found a hole in the Jacket's line and streaked 49 yards and the ball was again on the one yard line. Fricke got the ball on the next play, a hand-off, and went through tackle for another six-pointer.

Bay High scored again in the final frame when Strong got loose, shook off a hoard of tacklers and raced 68 yards to pay dirt.

St. Martin's only score came in the fourth quarter after a 35-yard pass from Letort to Edmond Smith putting the ball on Bay High's one with first down. Fullback Harold Babuchna bucked over for the touchdown.

Boogie Dean added two points after touchdown with placement kicks. He missed only once. Letort added St. Martin's extra point from placement.

Friday night the Tigers travel to Poplarville for a non-conference game and St. Martin hosts Ocean Springs. Tiger coach Lance Lumpkin is keeping his fingers crossed for this one.

HNC scuttle Pirates at homecoming cruise

Hancock North Central's rejuvenated football Hawks came to life and pumelled Pass Christian's Pirates, 26-0 in a Gulf Coast Conference thriller Friday night in Hawk stadium before a cheering, standing room only homecoming throng.

It was the third win in a row for the Hawks after having dropped three in a row, upping their season record to four wins and three defeats.

The crowd was treated to a spectacular half-time performance by bands and high stepping, baton twirling majorettes from both schools. At one time there were approximately 150 musicians, band directors and majorettes performing on the field. The homecoming queen, Ann Moran, was escorted on the field by Werlin Ladner and resounding applause while the band paid homage with an appropriate selection. Miss Lee and her maids were driven on the field before the game in separate convertibles and the dignity of the occasion was marred only once when their foot-high platform gave way. Highlight of the evening was the presentation of a 1966 automobile to the school by Fred Hoagland, Bay St. Louis Ford dealer. The car will be used for school driving classes.

The Hawks got off to a slow start and appeared somewhat over-anxious to display their strength before the overflow crowd. Neither team could get in scoring position in the first quarter and the pigskin saw-sawed back and forth but the hard-playing Hawks settled down in the second period and it was all their game from that point.

Shortly before the end of the half the Hawks were faced with a fourth down, one yard to go situation on the Pirates' 30. Coach Ezell Lee wasted no time deciding to gamble and immediately sent Jerry Ladner into the game with throw that ball instructions, Randall faded back behind fine protection and hit Ladner, who had already raced to the end zone. The final touchdown came in the closing minutes of play on a one-yard run by Paul Cuevas who had set up the scoring play with a fine 18-yard run.

Statistics: First downs, HNC 8, PCS; passes attempted, four each; passes completed two each; fumbles, HNC 1, PC 4; recovered, HNC four, PC one; yards rushing, HNC 195, Pass 77; passing HNC 70, PC 42; punts, HNC 2, PC 3; average 30 yards each; penalties, HNC 3 for 25 yards; PC five for 35 yards.

Friday night the Hawks will be in Vancleave for a battle with the Bulldogs and Coach Lee is figuring on adding another one to his win column.
